CRAP FIGHT CUT NEARLY KILLED MAN

William Curtis, of Crestmont, Owes His Life to Prompt Work of Abington Police Chief—Blood Spurred Over Automobile on Way to Hospital—Ben. Lackman Said to Have Wielded Razor.

The prompt action of Chief Lever, of the Abington police and his automobile saved the life of William Curtis, of Crestmont, early Tuesday morning. In a dispute over 25 cents, it is alleged that Benjamin Lackman alias Black Diamond cut Curtis with a razor over his forehead and temple.

The man held profusely, blood spurting from his wounds. His companions became alarmed and notified the Abington police. It was then long past midnight. Chief Lever and Sergeant Ferguson responded to the call and hurried him to the Jewish hospital. Blood spurting from his wounds as he was taken into the ambulance and when the doctors at the hospital first saw him, they thought that he was dead from the loss of blood, as a number of arteries had been cut, and it was necessary for work to be tried.

TOWNSHIP SEWERAGE

Below we print three letters, which speak for themselves, addressed to Mr. W. S. Schellenger, one of the members of the Cheltenham Board of Commissioners. These letters are of great importance to all taxpayers and voters of Cheltenham township. The first one is by John Gribbel, a large property owner, of Wyncote. The second is from Dr. John B. Deaver, the noted surgeon, who resides in Wyncote. The third is from Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, State Health Commissioner, of Philadelphia. Read them carefully and decide whether you wish the township to build the sewers or have a private corporation do so.

Wyncote, Pa., October 30th, 1911. Mr. W. S. Schellenger, Wyncote, Penna.

Dear Sir:—I am writing you in conversation for detailed information regarding the proposed installation of a sewerage system in Cheltenham township. You may also recall that I declined to commit myself on the subject at that time.

It seems to me only fair to you, as a public official, to now answer your inquiry, after having given it careful consideration. I have debated this subject with myself in three different capacities.

First—As a citizen. Second—As a taxpayer. Third—As a real estate investor.

First, as citizen: The unqualified statement of all the health authorities, the health of the communities in our township is in serious danger, and cannot be preserved without a system of sewerage. The statement must stand as a fact, unless there is in opposition an equally convincing statement to the contrary.

Second—As a taxpayer. I have not, as a real estate investor, First, as citizen: The unqualified statement of all the health authorities, the health of the communities in our township is in serious danger, and cannot be preserved without a system of sewerage. The statement must stand as a fact, unless there is in opposition an equally convincing statement to the contrary.

CHICKEN KEEF SHOT BY FARMER IS DEAD

Hamilton Kile Peppared with Bird Shot by Alvin Haines, Died of Blood Poison—Kile Concealed His Wounds for Two Days—Had Bad Record.

Hamilton Kile, 48 years old, who was shot while robbing the poultry house of Alvin Haines in Plymouth township, died at the hospital in Norristown Tuesday morning. Blood poisoning caused his death. More than one hundred shots were picked out of his body. Kile's parents were wealthy.

During the night of October 2 Farmer Alvin Haines heard a noise at his chicken house and went out gun in hand at 11 o'clock. He saw a man running with a bag of chickens and fired. The man fell, then arose and escaped in a dark night.

A few hours later Kile was arrested while about to enter the house of a relative in Norristown. He was picked up on the charge of stealing tools. It was not discovered by the authorities that he had been shot until two days after his arrest, when he was being examined at the prison. He was taken to a charity hospital at Norristown in mortal power was done to save the unfortunate man but it was too late. He died on Tuesday.

Kile had lived in Ambler, near Lansdale and at Norristown, and was known in that section.

Just before he died Kile made a statement that he met two other men on Thursday last, who had gone to Haines' farm to steal poultry.

Since the death of Kile, the question of the trial of Haines, who is a local Friends' minister, has been discussed. Coroner King declared that Haines will not be required to answer for the shooting in court. The Coroner was influenced in his decision by the advice of District Attorney J. B. Lutz, who says that a person caught in the act of committing a felony, such as stealing chickens, may be shot, and the author of the shooting is not criminally liable.

Garret B. Gorton is building a corn crib on the farm of M. H. Kinsland, Northampton township, which will hold 3000 bushels.

The Building Committee of the Philadelphia Country Club is having plans prepared for the erection of a locker house, with apartments on the upper floors, to cost about $50,000.

The farm known as "Inghamdale," on the pike near New Hope, owned jointly by Hugh B. Eastburn, of Doylestown and the late Timothy T. Eastburn, has been purchased by the former.

The 171-acre farm belonging to Emily Bailey, of Langhorne, in Falls township, near Fallington, Bucks county, has been sold by Arthur P. Townsend, of Langhorne, Pa., to Charles H. Carver, of Fallington, Pa., on private terms.

E. J. Gill has purchased from the Sedgwick Farms Company for a consideration of $25,000 a three-story residence of stucco, with a red tile roof, on the northwest side of Mount Pleasant avenue, 133 feet northeast of Anderson street, Sedgwick Farms, east of Germantown. The property contains 16 rooms and occupies a lot 100 feet in front by 175 feet in depth to a rear road.

A tract of twenty-eight and one-fifth acres at the northwest corner of Olney and Rising Sun avenues, has been sold by George H. Jacobs to Frederick Unruh for a nominal consideration, subject to a mortgage of $42,500. The property is assessed at $42,000 at farm rates. It is proposed to develop the property in its near future to keep pace with the large dwelling operations in Logan and vicinity. Five acres of the ground will be taken by the city for Tacony Creek Park, which adjoins the tract.

Nervous Prostration For Three Years

"Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve-cure cured me of a period of nervous prostration of over three years duration, and the Anti-Pain Pills are as necessary to us as the roof of our house. They have been household remedies with us for many years."

WM. J. LOUGHAN,

Philadelphia, Penna.

Much sickness is due to nervous troubles. Headache, dizziness, epilepsy and insanity are nervous troubles. There is a large class of disorders which arise from a weakness of the nerves of an organ or part, as weak lungs, heart, stomach, kidney, bladder, eyes, etc. Dyspepsia and indigestion are usually the result of nervous disorders.

Restorative Nerve-cure soothes the irritated nerves, and assists the nerve cells to generate nerve force.

Dr. Miles' Nerve-cure is sold by all druggists. If the first bottle fails to benefit, your druggist will return your money.

THE VITAL QUESTION BEFORE voters next Tuesday is more that of methods than of men. On the outcome hangs the fate of the Johnson machine, which centered at Norritown and aided by all of the available patronage, has been able for many years to control Montgomery county by having its chosen candidates elected by its voters. By secret maneuvers and building methods it has succeeded in defying and nullifying the intent of the uniform primary law, which was meant to take the power of naming candidates from the bosses and place it with the people, where it belongs.

It is well known that the boss has been able to secure nomination for his county. In nearly every part of the county there are good men, who at one time or another have aspired to office, who found after a campaign that the Johnson machine was working against them and spending money to accomplish their defeat. In every district there are agents of the Johnson machine, men active about the polls, who are paid in money or by promises of reward. These men, taken as a whole, have been able to execute orders from the boss, to secrete enough votes from the unthinking to control the nominating primaries.

But the vote they control is a very small part of the whole, that is cast at a general election.

At the polls next Tuesday, with a secret ballot the independent voter the man who thinks for himself, the unbought man, has the opportunity of throttling the Johnson machine by voting the fusion ticket, containing the names of men who are free from boss domination.

This opportunity, when the forces opposed to bossism are united, may not come soon again.

Next Tuesday is the time to strike for freedom from machine rule.

Independent voter it is up to you.

THE EFFORT OF THE JOHNSON machine to force Philadelphia gang methods of ticket naming on Montgomery county citizens will be resented at the polls by all voters of independent thought and action.

Johnson is part of the Penrose machine, which, dominating city and State, is responsible for the disgraceful conditions in Philadelphia, now being aired in the daily papers. The control of the Republican party is in the hands of those who run it for the money in it, in contracts or offices.

Hence the contract jobbery and robery of taxpayers.

If you want Philadelphia conditions and methods to overpread Montgomery county, uphold the machine.

If you want honest methods, and we believe you do, then strike the gan-sters a blow between the eyes by voting the fusion ticket.

If the Johnson machine cannot elect its henchmen, it must collapse. This will restore the Republican party to a representative position, where good, clean, independent men will have a chance to be named for office, when their friends so desire. And when in office these men will be allowed to run the affairs of the county as the taxpayers desire, not as now, as the bosses direct.

AT THE END OF THIS MONTH

the time schedule of train service on the Reading Railway will be changed.

As the schedule is now being made up, we think it wise for all residents living along the line of the North East Railway, from Glenade to Ivyland, to write a letter to Theodore Voorhes, vice president of the Reading Railway, asking that the railroad company place a midnight train on the North East branch.

The fact that there is no train leaving Philadelphia after 6.40 in the evening through all this section of the country, is not only a hardship but a great detriment to the growth and value of real estate along the line and is an actual cash loss to every one who is an owner of property and who purchased it before the taking off of our midnight train, several years ago.

The editor of the Spirit was looking over a booklet, printing the schedule of trains to Hatboro station some 15 or more years ago, and the service then was better than the service given us today.

Is this fair treatment? Is it just that a railroad should so treat a community that it should have its business jeopardized?

Every business is constantly doing new things that do not pay, but in the aggregate they are successful. A bank will collect your checks from all over the country, without a cent of charge.

This is quite an expense but they do not tell you that they will not take your deposit of checks and notes, because the collecting of the checks is unprofitable.

A newspaper pays in time and money for the collecting of news, which does not pay directly, but it is profitable because it adds to the subscription list.

Could not the railroad, therefore,

add one extra train that does not pay for the sake of increasing the population along its route, and thus satisfy its patrons? We think we are not asking too much when we ask the railroad to put on a train that will allow the people along the line to come out from the city after eleven o'clock in the evening.

THERE ARE SEVERAL REASONS

why the Johnson-Democratic fusion ticket has a fair chance of winning in Montgomery county this fall.

The foremost reason is the general dissatisfaction of a great many Republicans with the Johnson machine and its methods, by which only the Republicans of sufficient independence and force attempt to run for office. It is endangered from the ticket before the nominating election is held, or defeated by the orders of the machine.

Another reason is the popular men selected by the fusionists, and their being well distributed over the county.

In Norritown, Charles J. McAvoy, a candidate for District Attorney, is looming so strong that he expects to carry that borough, as there seems to be much dissatisfaction with Shelve, the Republican nominee.

In the lower end of the county Abingdon News, candidate for Sheriff, B. Frank Boutcher, candidate for Recorder of Deeds, and Harman V. Bready, candidate for County Commissioner, are winning many votes from the independent thinking people. Each one of these men will have large votes from their own territory coming out of the ranks of both the Republican and Democratic parties.

It will only require about 2000 independent Republicans to vote the fusion ticket to elect it, and when you consider each man with his many friends, this is not a large number to expect. The independent vote at times has been much larger.

The upper end of the county is and always has been strongly Democratic, and the chairman of the Democratic County committee expects to come down to Perkiomen creek, which divides the county, with a majority of between 2000 and 3000. Taking this into account, the fusion ticket has a strong independent feeling existing in the Republican townships through the lower end and the election of the fusion ticket is altogether probable.

Election day, Tuesday next, is the day for you to decide whether you are to be tossed by a coin of chance, or whether you are to have some say in naming the men, who are to fill the offices to spend your money as a tax-

POLITICS UPDATE

NORRISTOWN LETTER.

Our County Seat Correspondent Pre-

Norritown, Pa., Nov. 3.

"If one may place any dependence on all indications," says a Democratic leader here, "the fusion ticket will McAvoy, candidate for District Attorney, "the fusion cause will have a victorious victory in Montgomery county

Tuesday next. I have taken active part in several campaigns, but must say that the one whose close I am approaching has, so far as county contests go, never been excelled in encouraging features for those who battle against machine rule. A study of the situation convinces me that the whole Democratic-Keystone ticket will be elected, for I verily believe that the people are determined to oust government by the ring.

The opinion of success is shared by the other fusion nominees and workers, all of the former and many of the latter having, with Mr. McAvoy, visited practically every town and village in the county. It is perfectly natural, too, for them to draw such conclusions, for they are men who are in all cases. Even in districts where the fusion ticket is not the majority thought of in any light other than entirely Republican, the fusion candidate has been met with cordial greetings and promised the support of scores.

A miserable blunder made by the Republican machine crowd was the placing on the ticket of John J. Jacobs.

Up until the time Jacobs opened his mouth, in true party style, he was praised as a man on the Charles Johnson ticket. Now he is on a level with Shelve as a chameleon.

Jacobs, whose one-time strength lay in the belief that he was conservative and independent, "broke his neck" by being suddenly showing himself to be as partisan as anybody could be.

Before he was speaking for the fusion ticket he was speaking for the fusion ticket, and he is now speaking for the Republican ticket. He is a chameleon.

The assertion that the Republicans were considering as to a trade—presumably, on Judge Solly and in the interest of Shelve—continues to give the extra warm supporters of the fusion ticket, who are the backbone of the fusion ticket, a very bad impression.

It is not the case, as the fusion ticket is not the majority thought of in any light other than entirely Republican, and the fusion ticket is not the majority thought of in any light other than entirely Republican, and

the fusion ticket is not the majority

Hatboro Home Happenings

Epiphany Weidner has been on the sick list.

Hallet Barnes is ill at his home with pneumonia.

Borough water has been placed in the library property.

A masquerade dance was held at the school on Tuesday afternoon.

Benjamin Penrose, of Elkins Park, was in the borough on Friday.

A dancing class was started at Willoughby hall Friday night of last week.

Andrew Lents and family have gone to Atlantic City to spend the winter.

The Acorn Club held a progressive masquerade party on Wednesday evening.

B. F. Hill and son, Lyle, of Coatesville, were visitors in the borough on Sunday.

Grant Clayton, who underwent a second operation for his injured ankle, is getting along nicely.

The public school was closed all the week while the teachers attended institute at Norristown.

Mrs. Ella Detwiler and daughter, Helen, left on Saturday for Bloomsburg, Pa., to spend a week.

Mrs. Daniel Yerkes, of Hatboro, spent Sunday with her niece, Mrs. Harry Corner, of Doylestown.

Among those at Atlantic City over Sunday were Dr. and Mrs. C. O. Dager Mr. and Mrs. Penrose Robinson.

C. C. Moore entertained a big party at a Halloween dinner. He is making a specialty of serving an evening dinner to motorists and others.

Oliver Watson enjoyed several days vacation from his duties at the bank. He spent the time with Mrs. Watson and his daughter at Atlantic City.

The Bible school of the Baptist church resumes its afternoon session at 2:30 this Sunday, after having been meeting in the morning for the summer.

Miss Anna M. Logan entertained the Acorn Club at her home, Saturday last. The souvenirs of the occasion were beautiful acorns of a rare size and shape.

Charles Ambler, of Abington, and Charles Schwartz, of Jenkintown, called at the Spirit office on Tuesday.

They were campaigning and said prospects are rosy for Republican success.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Clayton entertained at cards on last Monday evening. A most delightful evening was spent by those present. Guests were present from Richboro, Huntingdon Valley, Glenside and Hatboro.

On Tuesday evening, November 7, a Christian Endeavor Rally will be held in the Baptist church. Rev. Eugene Deitrick, of Glenside, will make an address. All young people interested are cordially invited to attend.

Don't forget the race meet at the Warmist race track this Saturday afternoon for the benefit of the Hatboro, Willow Grove, Abington and Norristown fire companies. Many good horses with local drivers have been entered.

The song service at the Baptist church was exceptionally well rendered on Sunday evening last. Two anthems by the choir, a quartette, violin obligato by Dr. J. S. Downie, and solos by Mrs. Raymond Ambler and Morrow Hart, were given.

R. E. Mason has returned from a trip through the Cumberland Valley, where he bought a drove of cattle for this market. He will have a public sale at Moore's hotel, Hatboro, on next Monday afternoon. See ad. and posters.

The heavy frosts have killed most vegetation, and the ground is strewn with fallen leaves. A great many people burn all leaves, although they are useful for bedding and litter in the chicken house and barn, especially on the village lot.

The Jenkintown High School football team came to Hatboro on Friday last week and played a tie game with the Hatboro High School boys. Score 5 to 5. During the game Marion Barnes, one of the Hatboro players had his nose broken.

The degree staff of Washington Camp No. 273, P. O. S. of A. conferred the work upon one candidate last Friday evening. District President Roy Snyder of Camp No. 231, was present, besides other visitors. Refreshments were also served after the Camp session.

There were many masqueraders on the borough streets on Tuesday night. The young folks had plenty of fun, did no damage to property so far as reported. The borough police were about looking after the citizens' property. A number of the young girls dressed up as men, while many of the boys wore skirts.

The sale and entertainment in the M. E. church last Saturday evening was well attended and a nice sum was realized. The three act play "The Riddlemere of Ellen" was given with the following young people taking part: Miss Eleanor H. Weinman, Miss Lillian Hockman, Miss Elsie Jones, Messrs. Harry Schaffer, H. W. Mattinson, Ernest Jones and Albert Clayton.

This is the time of year to look particularly after the drains, spouts and gutters, as the falling leaves blow and are washed into the drains clogging same and causing not only a stoppage of the flow of water, but also allowing the collection of dirt and other debris which soon causes rotting of pipes, leaks resulting. A systematic cleaning of fallen leaves from roofs and around drains, etc., is advised to prevent serious trouble.

Moore's Inn was appropriately and prettily decorated in honor of Halloween when Mr. and Mrs. Moore served dinners to eighty or more, who came to enjoy the evening. The new dining room was transformed by the use of corn fodder and jack o' lanterns, that were everywhere and everyone seemed to enter into the spirit of the occasion.

There was one party, of about 40, from Philadelphia. The rest of the guests were from the borough and near by points. The dinner was especially good, well cooked and nicely served. On Wednesday some 25 or 30 members of the Ladies Automobile Club, of Philadelphia, had luncheon at the Inn. They drove up in their own automobiles.

JOHNSTON FOR LOWER TAXES.

To the Voters of Abington Township: You have honored me upon two previous occasions by electing me to public office. The last Legislature, by passing the new "School Code," legislated all school directors out of office.

My associates and myself are candidates for re-election. We have never allowed politics to figure in any action of the school board. We come before you now as citizens asking for support irrespective of party and not as politicians.

I might add that I firmly believe that a child's education consists not of books learning alone crammed into his head at such a reckless rate as to dwarf his mental faculties and ruin his health. But that common sense methods are just as essential in successful teaching as they are in the successful business ventures of life.

The high aim of the teacher should be to develop his pupil mentally, morally and physically, so that when he leaves school he will be well balanced and ready to take up his life's work at a level-headed manner. A child's intellect is not a sponge or a warehouse to be crammed full to the overflowing with heavy knowledge at the expense of his health. It is the most vital part of us that must be fed and made to grow strong and active by proper work and exercise. In no other way can you induce mind growth. This same law that applies to developing and strengthening the body itself in rounding out a child's physique should be applied in developing his mental faculties. That is the kind of education that Thomas A. Edison and most of our successful men received. We have the kind of education we believe our school children should get and are getting. With such development they will be well fitted for life work because knowledge obtained by mind growth whether received in the school room or the work shop is not only vital and vivid but lasting.

We believe in looking after the child's health. Without health a man's attainments are worse than useless. One seventh of our annual death rate is due to the terrible white plague, consumption, which in a large manner is brought about by poorly ventilated houses and school houses. To keep tuberculosis and other diseases from our community we have endeavored to give our school children the best ventilated school houses and finest play grounds obtainable.

In performing our duties we have been very careful of the tax payers money. During the last year we have reduced $7500 of the bonded indebtedness. Upon my motion the school tax was reduced from five to four and one half cents.

We have handled $40,000 annual school tax, not only as business men but just as carefully as though it were our own. We have seen to it that the tax payer got 100 cents worth for every dollar of his money, that we put out.

If you are satisfied with our work in the past we solicit your vote and support on November 7, 1911.

Sincerely,
WM. JOHNSTON.

ed conviction, Lewis is now in the Eastern Penitentiary.

HELPS TO CATCH L. CHICARINE.
Louis Chicarine, a brother of Frank, was also identified with the incident which wound up in Frank's receiving the revolver. Assistant District Attorney McAvoy, through a little detective work, discovered this fact, and from him came the hint to the State police as to where Louis was; further, it was by carrying out the plan suggested by the Assistant District Attorney that the arrest of Louis followed in a town in western Pennsylvania.

Louis Pasquale Harris, and Louis' father, were convicted relative to this affair, following prosecution at the hands of Mr. McAvoy. In the case of the old Chicarine, leniency was observed in sentence-passing.

ECHO OF THE JOHNSON CASE.
"Fatty" Paruch and Antonio Locavelli were also brought to task by the Assistant District Attorney, the charge against them being attempted burglary at the George A. Johnson home, on West 1st street, in Philadelphia, on the night of the murder. There were several unusual circumstances connected with the case, but the possibility of a slip of justice, through the agency of a technically, was anticipated and frustrated by the prosecution.
